PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Without side guide:

Universal sample strip cutter is used to cut sample strips of various widths. The integrated clamping mechanism ensures that the sample does not slip during cutting. A safety guard is attached in front of the blade.

Fixed side guide

With its fixed side guide, the universal sample strip cutter is used to cut sample strips of up to 100 mm. The integrated clamping mechanism ensures that the sample does not slip during cutting. A safety guard is attached in front of the blade.

The width of the side guide can be individually chosen up to 100mm depending on the material that needs to be cut.

Common widths are:
10mm / 15mm / 50mm

Variable side guide:

The universal sample strip cutter is suited to cutting different widths of sample strip due to its variable side guide. The integrated clamping mechanism ensures that the sample does not slip during cutting. A safety guard is attached in front of the blade.
